

Devon & Cornwall Police's brilliant anti-rape campaign:

We spend so much time critiquing safety campaigns from police that blame women for being raped. They focus entirely on the victim and never mention the perpetrator. We're really happy to this campaign from the Devon & Cornwall police making it clear that sex without consent is rape.

We hope they allow other police forces to use the campaign (and that other forces ask permission to use it!)