

Twitter defies law again

Despite complaints yesterday morning, Twitter still refuses to remove name of child rape complainant in current trial from multiple taunting posts.

Despite complaints to the police yesterday, they still haven't been forced to do so. What does it take to persuade anyone to enforce the law on behalf of victims?